

Track repair

Louisville and Nashville Railroad workers were busy this week repairing sections of track in Hancock County that were in various stages of disrepair. Maintenance included replacing rotten ties, respiking, and foundation buildup. Officials of the L&N became the subject of criticism from Hancock supervisors and citizens after L&N trains were involved in two derailments within a period of sixty days. Railroad officials promised speedy action to correct the faulty tracks, but negotiations to limit train speeds in the county are still undergoing.

Royalty and wild natives roamed the streets of Bay St. Louis in harmony Tuesday as the Merry Makers rolled through town with floats and bands glittering. Depicting "Foreign lands in masquerade" the third annual parade threaded its way from St. Rose De Lima School down Main and Second Street before crowds of spectators lined to watch the black Mardi Gras celebration. King Edward Ishem and Queen Irene Benoit presided over the Fat Tuesday festivities.

Second public forum to designate funding

Pass Christian Mayor Steve Saucier, who described himself as being "very disappointed" with the turnout at Thursday's public forum, said at the meeting that "one of the results of this meeting is to set the next meeting date." The purpose of the public forums in Pass Christian, according to Mayor Saucier, is to give the people an opportunity to suggest what city projects need immediate attention.

Clean Sweep meeting set

Long Beach will hold its organizational meeting for Operation Clean Sweep Monday at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall with all interested citizens and groups invited to attend. Mayor Sam Maxwell said that the massive cleanup campaign should last about a week. Alderman Bob Richards is the campaign's coordinator.

Tonight Pass Christian will hold its second public forum, beginning at 7 p.m., and the city officials are hoping that this public forum will be a little more public than the first one. One positive result of last week's meeting, however, was that the seven members of the newly-formed community development committee learned about the federal discretionary funding program that Pass Christian qualifies for.

Under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, the cities of Pass Christian, Long Beach, Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Wiggins, as well as Hancock, Harrison, and Stone counties are competing for a share of the $225,000 in federal monies made available under the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) grant. The program is designed to eliminate federal categorical grants which give money to the city to use for a specific project. Under this program, each city

McCarty challenged

School board threatens salary cut

by Anita Dinwiddie

Two attempts to cut the salary of Hancock County Superintendent of Education, K. G. McCarty, failed to come to a vote at the Wednesday morning meeting of the county school board. Board members were in unanimous agreement with a motion, proposed by Johnny Banks and seconded by Tommy Shaw, to cut McCarty's salary for failure to carry out measures approved by the board.

The first motion, to cut the superintendent's salary from the present $15,000 to $12,501, was made to comply with the state law requiring that the county superintendent be the highest paid employee of the school system. Banks and Shaw reached their proposed salary figure by adding $1 to the salary of J. A. O'Neill, principal of Hancock North Central, the highest paid employee under McCarty. A legal hitch arose, however, because of the subsidy of a house for O'Neill which must be taken into salary considerations. The house has an estimated monthly rental value of $200 to $250.

Board Chairman, Monvel Cuevas, then proposed a $500 cut in salary. This motion was also postponed, however, "to give Mr. McCarty a chance to show that he can work in good faith with this board," he said.

The board meeting nearly erupted into a brawl over the salary argument when board member Tommy Shaw threatened to physically silence McCarty after the superintendent made a disparaging remark about a prayer he had offered at the beginning of the meeting. Both men were restrained by Sheriff's Deputy James Ladner who was present at the request of Board Chairman Monvel Cuevas to keep order.

The question of a salary cut was brought up by Cuevas, who read a list of six items from previous meetings which the board had ordered but McCarty had failed to carry out.

"It just doesn't seem as if Mr. McCarty wants to carry out the wishes of this board," said Cuevas. "You work for this board even though you are an elected official, and this whole thing could be avoided if you would work with this board."

In reply, McCarty demanded more respect from the board members and accused Cuevas of "trying to make a monkey out of me."

One of the major accusations made against McCarty by board members was that he had been driving a car leased to the school system as a driver's education car for his own personal use. The car, a 1975 model, is leased from Turan-Lane Chevrolet, with the board paying for license tag and insurance. It was received from Turan-Lane over two months ago, but delivery was never made to Hancock North Central High School.

The board voted Wednesday to send the car back to Turan-Lane since the county employs only one driver education teacher at the school and has no need for the extra car. They did, however, stipulate that if a second teacher were hired the lease deal would be resumed.

Another item from the minutes, instructing McCarty to alter a school bus route in order to pick up four children under 12 years of age, was brought into the argument of the superintendent's neglect of duties. McCarty had refused to instruct the driver to change his route last week because he claimed that such a move would be against the law. Board members contend that as long as state funds are not used for this purpose that it is within their authority. The father of the four children was present at the meeting to hear the board again instruct McCarty to order the driver to pick the children up.

"You can ride around in a car that the county finances," Shaw accused McCarty, "but you can't send a school bus to pick up these four children. I just don't understand that."

The board members also criticized McCarty for the manner in which he has handled the hiring of teacher's aides and assistants under the federally funded Government Emergency Council. McCarty had previously told the board that there would be no cost to the county for the program, but Wednesday said that they must pay for social security and teachers retirement for the new employees, or cut the number of employees from eight to seven.

One requirement of the program is that those employed must have been previously unemployed for a period of 30 days. One applicant who had been recommended by McCarty and approved by the board did not meet this

Following Friday fire

Harrison County schedules bond election, sets temporary quarters for county offices

March 4 election set to finance courthouse

The Harrison County Board of Supervisors Monday voted unanimously to schedule a special March 4 election on the question of issuing $3.9 million in bonds for the construction of a new courthouse. And, in an attempt "to put aside personal differences," the board also agreed to form a 13-member committee to propose a suitable courthouse site. The supervisors' action came just three days after a fire gutted the 72-year-old courthouse in Gulfport.

The bond election, which would require a 60 percent approval by the voters, would raise the taxes in the first judicial district by 23 cents per each $100 assessed valuation.

The bond issue, a subject of discord between proponents for a new courthouse and those against, has failed to gain approval in two previous elections held in June and November of 1974. Opponents of the two elections, supported by the Combined Watchdog Committee led by R.J. Caire of Pass Christian succeeded in having the first election nullified after Harrison supervisors made a technical error and failed to give sufficient legal notice prior to the election.

A second election held the following November received a majority of votes cast but still fell short of the 60 percent needed for approval.

Caire's group had criticized the board's site as being too costly, offering too little parking and as the choice of a committee dominated by "Gulfport interests."

After the supervisors' vote Monday, board president Melvin said, "We want everyone to put aside personal differences and political ambitions. The Board of Supervisors does not want to select a site. The site selection committee will hear from all groups. If they pick a suitable site, the supervisors will want to choose it." The supervisors resolution said the board recognized there was "an honest difference of opinion" surrounding the best location for a new courthouse.

Members of the site selection committee were appointed this week with each supervisor and the mayor of each of the county's municipalities appointing one member of the committee. In addition other members of the committee will be appointed by the senior circuit judge, the senior chancellor, the senior county judge and the president of the county bar association.

Paul Saucier was appointed by Long Beach Mayor Sam Maxwell to the committee while Pass Christian Mayor Steve Saucier named B.D. Rexroad. The committee, scheduled to meet late yesterday afternoon, will hear from all groups before making a full recommendation to the Board of Supervisors no later than Feb. 25.

The $3.9 million in additional revenue that would be raised by voter approval of the March bond election would constitute a major part of the $5.6 million estimated cost for the land site and construction and equipment costs. The other sources of the funds would come from the sale of the present courthouse, several federal programs, and insurance payments.

Board president Ernest Melvin said Wednesday that the insurance company has agreed to pay the cost of rebuilding the courthouse up to the insured amount ($800,000 for the building and $150,000 for its contents).

That cost, said Melvin, was to be determined by the board's designated damage appraisers, architect Charles L. Proffier and engineer Philip Shaw, working with insurance agents.

Melvin added that his office had a preliminary figure, but refused to release that figure at this time. He did indicate, however, that the estimated cost of rebuilding would probably exceed the $800,000.

Major offices located in Security-Markham

The Harrison County Board of Supervisors Saturday approved renting nearly 5,041 square feet in the Security-Markham building to temporarily house the county departments displaced by Friday's courthouse fire.

Burning courthouse

Firemen from all along the Coast helped battle Friday's fire at the 72-year-old Harrison County Courthouse. The fire, which was apparently caused by an electrical failure, broke out in the third floor of the building and destroyed some old records that were in storage. The first and second floors received extensive water damage, but there was no damage to the records, many of which were removed from the building by long lines of volunteers. The county supervisors, in an emergency meeting Monday voted unanimously to hold a special bond election March 4 for a new courthouse.

Triton begins new tradition

King Triton I led a ten-float parade through Waveland and Bay St. Louis along highway 90 for the first time on Mardi Gras day. The king, Evert P. Exnicious, is the owner of Hungry's Auto Sales in Bay St. Louis.

The Triton krewe presented the theme "It's Party Time" in their first pageant. The floats, designed by Ed Scanlan of New Orleans, depicted familiar party scenes such as Christmas, New Year's, masquerades, beer parties and birthdays.

Bands from local schools provided the music for the festivities. Bay High School, St. Clare's School, Harrison County High School and Pearl River Junior College marched in Triton's first effort. The marching group, the Spanish Senoritas also participated along with dukes on horseback and in convertibles.

Heart president gives hypertension advice

High blood pressure, reported to be one of the major causes of heart attack and stroke, will be emphasized during February, heart month, as part of the Heart Association's campaign against heart disease, said Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Jr., President of the Hancock County Heart Association.

"High blood pressure can take years off your life," Wolfe said. "It's a disease within a disease, and is a contributing factor in 500,000 of the more than 680,000 deaths in this country each year from heart attack and stroke."

Dr. Wolfe said that it is essential that people get regular blood pressure tests for hypertension because it is a silent disease accompanied by no usual symptoms. In 90 percent of the cases of hypertension doctors don't know the cause of the condition.

"Of the 23 million Americans who have high blood pressure, at least half don't know it," he said. "And half of these aren't being treated adequately or at all."

A tendency toward hypertension can be inherited, but by taking proper precautions a person can reduce the risk, Wolfe said. One simple way that everyone can lessen the risk of high blood pressure is by the proper diet, Wolfe said. Foods low in saturated fats and cholesterol, such as fish and poultry, and whole grain products, skim milk and its byproducts are a good preventative diet, he said. The foods to avoid are excessive amounts of whole milk products, beef, pork and veal. Also, egg yolks, which are very high in cholesterol, should not be eaten more than three times a week.

Dr. Wolfe said that in order to help people plan a healthier diet, the Heart Association has published a cookbook, The American Heart Association Cookbook. The book is available from local Heart Association stations at a cost of $8.

The Heart Association president emphasized that the most important factor in fighting heart disease is the knowledge of what to do in case of a heart attack. Over 50,000 people could have been saved, he said, if someone had known the proper life-saving methods.

The technique cardiopulmonary resuscitation, CPR, can save a life, Wolfe said. It involves forcing air into the victim's lungs by compressing the center of his chest to maintain life functions until emergency units arrive.

"CPR can be a life saver not only when someone suffers cardiac arrest," Dr. Wolfe said. "But many who have drowned or who died as a result of electrocution, suffocation or drug overdose might have been saved if CPR had been administered in time. For there's only one alternative to effective CPR in many emergencies, and that alternative is death."

Veterans offered group life policy

by Anita Dinwiddie

Veterans who separated from the service after April of 1970 are now eligible for a Veterans Group Life Insurance policy for greatly reduced payments. Chester Curvey, Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County, explained that the policy is a five-year, non-renewable term life insurance policy which can be converted to a permanent policy upon its expiration.

"The great advantage in the policy is the low cost of the insurance, plus the fact that it can be converted to any of seven different types of insurance," said Curvey. "But, I must emphasize that it is non-renewable. It must be converted to some other policy when it expires."

The cost of the policy to veterans under 34 years of age is $85 per month for a $5,000 policy, $1.70 for $10,000, $2.55 for $15,000 and $3.40 for $20,000. The price doubles in each category for applicants over 34.

A veteran who wishes to take advantage of the policy would only be allowed to take out a policy in the amount of his prior Serviceman's Group Life Insurance Policy. The veteran's policy would then be good for five years less the time elapsing between the termination of his SGLI policy and August 1, 1974.

"This policy is meant to help those veterans who allowed their SGLI policy to lapse, or who did not convert that policy to another life insurance within the 120 day period after leaving the service," said Curvey. "The VGLI is a good way for them to get back into the program again."

The Veterans Service Officer said that he had had several calls in response to his radio announcement about the new policy, but most calls

Not for infants

These candy pacifiers have been removed from store shelves by order of the health department because of the danger of strangulation to small infants caused when the candy part of the pacifier separates from the plastic base. The candy pacifiers are marketed under the name of Lic-a-Nip, Goo Goo, Sweet tips, and Caprice. Persons finding the pacifiers should return them to the store from which they were purchased.

Six kinds of candy pacifiers are being recalled and a seventh seized because of the possibility of injury to infants or small children who may use the product, according to the Food and Drug Administration and the Mississippi State Board of Health.

The candy pacifiers are labeled "Caution, Not For Infants"; but medical experts consulted by FDA have advised that such a warning is not sufficient to keep the products from being given to infants.

The candy pacifiers closely resemble ordinary pacifiers but have a candy tip mounted in or on a plastic handle. The candy tip may break off or come off the handle while an infant or small child is using the pacifier, creating a hazard of choking on the candy tip.

According to the FDA and the MSBH, persons finding such pacifiers should return them to the store from which they were purchased. The brand names are Lic-a-Nip, Goo Goo, Sweet Tips and Caprice.

Pass public forum called tonight

.....and county can determine its own priorities, and Pass Christian is trying to determine its own priorities by going directly to the people. However, there has been very little response.

"We have to do something different from what we did tonight," said Mayor Saucier about the poor turnout at Thursday's meeting. And finally it was decided that the mayor and the committee members would approach different civic, fraternal, and religious organizations in the city for suggestions.

The deadline for the cities to file for the SMSA funds is March 1; so the committee suggested some areas which would, in the words of Saucier, "stimulate the imagination of the public." Among those areas which the committee said needed federal assistance are playground and recreational facilities, sidewalks for school children, a better road system, better sewage and drainage, and a stronger code enforcement.

When asked after the meeting what he felt Pass Christian's chances for getting a share of the money were, Saucier said that many people in an official capacity believe that "Pass Christian's economic conditions dictate we have better than even chances to get a good share of the money."

The economic situation and the extent of overcrowding are two of the criteria for determining which cities receive federal funds under the SMSA grant.

Free trees available locally for planting

County Forester Michael R. Williams of the state forestry commission said this week that free trees would be provided the Hancock Agricultural Building on Necaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis for anyone who wishes to plant a tree in honor of Arbor Day Feb. 14.

Mississippians are fortunate, Williams said, that they have so many abundant forests, but added that there are several million acres suited for growing timber still in need of planting. Many of these "idle acres," Williams said, can be found in Hancock County.

As for city residents, Williams pointed out that planting a shade or flowering tree in your yard does much to enhance the environment and beauty of the community.

Williams said the Arbor Day date is good for planting because it allows ample time for young roots to settle before growth begins in Spring.

Educational loans for vets now being processed by VA

The Veterans Administration Center in Jackson is processing applications for new education loans for veterans attending school under the GI Bill. The loans, up to a maximum of $600 in one academic year, were established by the Vietnam-era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, enacted by Congress last month.

The new law also provided a 22.7 percent increase in monthly payments for 1.5 million veterans in training under the GI Bill. Single veterans now receive $170 monthly. A veteran with two dependents receives $366. Students pursuing an undergraduate degree, who exhaust their 36 months entitlement, have been given up to nine months additional time to complete studies under the new law. Merlyn J. Cook, Assistant VA Center Director for the Regional Office, said the effective date for the loan program was January 1, however, he added that all eligible veterans, wives, widows and children will be considered for initial loans based upon the full amount of their tuition and all other costs of attendance anticipated for the entire 1974-75 academic year. This is considered to have started about September 1.

Under the new law those granted loans will be required to execute promissory notes agreeing to repayment of principal plus 8 percent interest. Repayment of principal and interest will be deferred while the student is attending classes at least on a half-time basis.

Installment payments must start nine months after the student ceases at least half-time enrollment, with full payment within 10 years and nine months after that date. Part or all of the loan may be prepaid, without penalty. Interest will not accrue on the loan balance until the required beginning date of repayment.

A three percent loan fee will be deducted from the approved loan amount to provide a fund to insure against defaults under the loan program. Defaults will be considered overpayments and recovered in the same manner as other debts due the government.

The new measure provides that applicants must have exhausted all efforts to obtain student loans administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The student must list all lenders applied to, with dates notified of final decisions. If denied a guaranteed student loan, copies of denial statement from each lender must accompany the VA application.

All financial resources must be reported by the student, including other educational loans, grants, scholarships, VA educational assistance and cash assets. The year in which the loan application is submitted will be the base year for reporting income.

VA also said the school must certify the student's course of study and tuition and fees for all students and any room and board charges.

No loan may be approved for intercession or other enrollment periods of less than 10 weeks.

Rice industry expands in Mississippi

by Martha Gayle Peeler
Mississippi has its own rice mill, Miss-Del.

Miss-Del reminds the consumer that one cup of uncooked rice will yield approximately three cups of cooked rice and that this amount of rice should be cooked in 2 cups of water and 1 teaspoon salt. The following rice cooking methods are also offered by Miss-Del.

1. Direct heat Method. Bring to boil in heavy 3 quart pan. Stir once, then cover and reduce heat to very low and cook for 15 or 20 minutes until water is absorbed. Do not lift lid or stir until completely done then fluff with a fork. For drier rice let stand covered 10 minutes.

2. Double Boiler Method. Bring water to boil in top of double boiler over direct heat, add rice and salt. Cover, cook over boiling water 35 or 40 minutes. Do not lift lid or stir while cooking.

3. Baked Method. Pour rice and salt into 2-quart baking dish. Stir boiling water into rice. Cover and bake in a 350 degrees oven for 30 minutes.

Rice is versatile in that it may be eaten as a main dish, dessert or salad. Several pamphlets containing approximately 50 rice recipes may be obtained by writing to Rice Recipes, Miss. Department of Agriculture and Commerce, P. O. Box 615, Pascagoula, Miss. 39567.

CREAMY RICE PUDDING

3 c. cooked rice
3 c. milk
1/2 c. sugar
3 tbs. butter or margarine
1 tsp. vanilla
Combine rice, milk, sugar, and butter. Cook over medium heat until thickened, about 30 minutes, stirring often. Add vanilla. Pour into serving dish. Serve hot or cold. Makes 6 servings.

Youth fair after being hit

A Pass Christian youth is reported in fair condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital after being struck Sunday by a car on North Street just hours after the Mardi Gras parade.

Richard Levy, 13, of 320 Grace Avenue, who suffered a skull fracture in the accident, was recently transferred from the intensive care ward to the pediatric ward at the hospital.

According to a sheriff's department spokesman, the boy was playing on a bridge, when he got off the railing and stepped into the path of the car.

Plant a Tree

Arbor Day in Mississippi will be celebrated Feb. 14, and as a special tribute to this day the Bay-Waveland Garden Club has planned a massive beautification project in Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

It was Julius Sterling Morton who realized many years ago the importance of trees in our environment and worked for over two decades to have his state of Nebraska designate a certain day for statewide tree-planting. Because of his efforts, the first Arbor Day festival was held in Nebraska April 10, 1872.

A few years later, the state of Ohio held an Arbor Day celebration and introduced two new ideas into the observance: First the day was made a school festival; and second, the practice of planting memorial trees was inaugurated. These new ideas were largely responsible for the extension of Arbor Day over the rest of the United States. Now, every state except Alaska has a day definitely designated as Arbor Day.

Arbor Day in Mississippi did not become official until 1926. The fact that we had been blessed with a superabundance of forest land prior to this time had, perhaps, "put a damper" on any previous moves to stress the need for planting of additional trees. However, by 1926, a small group of concerned Mississippians had noted that forest fires and heavy timber cutting posed a serious threat to our state's forest resources. Through their efforts with the Legislature, the State Forestry Commission was organized to combat wildfires and encourage reforestation. In that same 1926 legislative session, Mississippi's Arbor Day was also brought into official existence.

Arbor Day in Mississippi was celebrated during December in its earlier years, but now is always held on the second Friday in February. It is a good date to observe this tree planting festival, near the middle of the dormancy period for trees.

We Mississippians owe much of our economic and environmental welfare to trees, so let us begin planning now to celebrate Arbor Day in a very special way.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Not too many years ago a popular song was titled "I Love a Parade", a sentiment subscribed to by most everybody. Who doesn't feel his blood run faster when the coronets blare "Winsocki" and the slidehorns rollick "Seventy-six Trombones" or Sousa's incomparable "Stars and Stripes Forever" makes the welkin ring?

The Mardi Gras parade staged here two weeks ago was a noble effort, professionally handled, sparkling with color and talent, matching the "big city" efforts in everything save size. But as we watched it, we wondered (as we do every year) why our local celebration must ape the formula set by New Orleans. Surely our countryside has a style of its own, distinctive and original, not related to mythical heroes. Mardi Gras itself is an "artificial" celebration, the natural outgrowth of a logical custom of stuffing oneself on the last day before the long fasting period of Lent; a practice followed by the earliest settlers on the Gulf Coast, few of whom had ever heard of the gods of Olympus.

The Indians who roamed over this vast territory before the white man came also had their festive days, as witness the description of a tribal celebration by the Rev. Bullen, the first missionary to the Chickasaws early in the 19th century. He describes the marching and dancing and feasting of the tribe, not so very different from the doings of New Orleans people in a modern day. If this is then a common custom, why not link it with local tradition and bring to life a Gulf Coast Mardi Gras, distinctive and meaningful?

What a setting the Bay country provides for a pageant! The beach, for swimming events and contests. The bay and the rivers, for yachting and canoeing events, the railroad and station for pageantry, the schools for music and song contests and athletic events, the mounds and parks for Indian dances and exhibits, the Old Spanish Trail for re-enactment of historical events!

This area is rich in the lore of the Indians and the early settlers, and too little has been recorded of their lives and the special events that have taken place here. To establish a special Bay St. Louis Mardi Gras observance just for our own people, using the wealth of folklore available to us, would be a prime objective for the newly-formed Hancock County Historical Society and a project which every resident of the area would find of real interest and personal satisfaction.

Tax Us With Dreams

by Rabbi Julius Nodel

Implant within the hearts of all who are entrusted with the guardianship of our cities a constant awareness of the human values at stake.

Clear the slums of prejudice from hearts.

Illumine the dark alleys of our indifference.

Renew in us those places in our thinking which are too often willing to try anything new as long as it has been done before.

Tax us with dreams that are capable of fulfillment.

Reapportion our hearts so that there will be no under representation of You in our lives.

Beautify our vision so that we do not abuse the natural blessings of your creation.

Remove the litter of ignorance and greed from the people we serve.

Help us to restore the dilapidated ideals of civic and national pride which are necessary for our growth.

Pave the streets of our intentions with righteousness.

For we know, dear God, there is no greater blight in our cities than fear; no greater crime wave than the flood of despair; and no greater delinquency than the mischief of inertia.

(This framed prayer hangs in the office of the Mayor of Bay St. Louis and is reproduced with his permission).

"You insolent kids! You'll probably grow up to be members of the legislature!"

GUN CONTROL

Dear Editor:

Senator Ted Stevens stated on March 13, 1974, there are approximately 100 million privately-owned guns in the U.S. Of a total of 781,730 crimes committed, firearms were used in 345,347 instances, or a gun-use incident rate of 0.0035 percent. Law-abiding gun owners are not using their guns to commit crimes.

Statistics published by the National Safety Council of Chicago indicate that there are 1.2 accidental deaths by firearms per 100,000, compared to 27.2 per 100,000 killed by automobile. Deaths from falling, drowning, fires, poisoning, suffocation have a greater incident rate than firearms. Why is gun control receiving so much emphasis?

Crime control is being equated to gun control; we are told, if guns are banned, crime will be controlled. This is a misrepresentation of facts. Congressman John Scanlon states: "The strict gun control laws in New York have done nothing to reduce a steady increase of murder committed with guns. . . New York stands near the top. . . with a homicide rate two-and-a-half times the national average." When New Jersey passed a rigid gun-control law in 1966, the crime rate increased. By contrast, in Switzerland the people are required to have guns for national security; it enjoys a very low per capita shooting rate.

The Uniform Pistol Act of 1938-49 and others, prohibit criminals from having guns. No new laws are needed. Liberals admit they do not know how to disarm criminals. They propose to disarm honest men, while criminals possess guns.

Coincident with the drive to disarm law-abiding citizens, the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, has recommended that states should no longer impose jail sentences for the crimes of marijuana use, pornography, prostitution and sexual perversion. Congressman Rarick states: "Permissive elements—have helped to create conditions conducive to crime. . . law-abiding citizens must retain their handguns. . ."

Many legislators and mass media columnists are playing a major role in the orchestrated plan to disarm Americans. Senators include: Bayh, McGovern, Kennedy, Cranston, Inouye, Stevenson, Mathias, Eagleton, Javits, and Magnuson. Columnist David Brown emotionalizes on the need for gun control to protect Americans from themselves. While it is true there are people in institutions that need this assistance, to thus categorize the average American involves a plethora of phantasmagoria, like restricting 200 million people, to control a few thousand!

The Ford Foundation orchestrated drive to disarm Americans is intended to discredit guns, gun owners and gun ownership. It seeks gun control, not crime control. Liberals would have us believe we do not need guns, because we are protected by the police, but Police Chief Gordon Johnson of Minneapolis, tells us: "Police forces were never designed to provide general personal security; that reliance has of necessity rested with the people." Gun Control cannot be enforced except by methods of tyranny.

Confiscation of guns would create an atmosphere in which an all-powerful federal government could thrive; a disarmed people invites oppression. Only a police state has reason to fear an armed citizenry. An armed citizenry, not the military, is the real assurance of continued freedom in our country!

Leo McNally, Gulfport, Ms.

Dear Editor:

I own an apartment in Timber Ridge, Pass Christian, so I attended the meeting at Delisle to hear the pros and cons in regard to the DuPont Plant considering location in Delisle. There were some interesting observations made by both sides. My permanent home is in St. John Parish in Louisiana where the DuPont Plant located a few years ago. We, in Lucy, are not even aware that there is a DuPont Plant directly across the Mississippi River from us. Never have we seen smoke billows in the atmosphere or detected unpleasant odors in the surrounding areas of the plant. I've made several inquiries about the methods undertaken by the Reserve plant to dispose of its pollutants, and I've been told that the plant has seven disposal wells to rid the plant of its waste. In addition to that, a cement ditch has been constructed around the plant to contain spills and also to collect all rain water, which in turn is pumped into the disposal wells.

An interesting experiment has been undertaken by the DuPont Plant to assure the local residents that the operation of the plant will not destroy the local trees and vegetation. The plant management has cultivated a vegetable garden on the plant premises. The garden thrives beautifully with no ill effects from the plant operation.

Please understand that I'm speaking about the DuPont Plant in Reserve, Louisiana. I have no way of knowing how a prospective plant in Delisle will operate, but I thought perhaps my comments about our local plant would help the local Bay residents make their decisions about a DuPont Plant locating in their area.

Sincerely yours,
Denis Lanaux

Veterans Information

Q — The Veterans Administration will pay me $270 monthly while I am single and attend school under its dependents' education assistance program. Will this be increased if I marry?

A — No. The law does not provide for additional allowances because of dependents of participants in this program.

Q — I'm a Vietnam-era veteran, and my employer is willing to set up an on-the-job training program for me. How would he go about getting approval for the program so I can draw GI Bill benefits while training?

A — You and your employer should contact the nearest VA office for complete information and assistance.

Q — Will the Veterans Administration pay dividends on the Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance (RH prefix) it issued me about six months ago?

A — No. Until enactment of PL 93-289 (May 1974), VA paid dividends only on National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and U. S. Government Life Insurance policies with "V" or "K" prefixed numbers. Effective Jan. 1, 1975, however, the law extended dividends to NSLI policies with "RS" and "W" prefixes.

Social Security

Many fishermen on the Gulf Coast are not receiving credit for their earnings for social security purposes because their employers are not reporting these earnings.

There has been controversy on the Coast for years as to who was responsible for paying social security for the fishermen. Some people thought the processing plant was responsible while some said the captain of the boat was responsible. Other people said all the fishermen were self-employed and were responsible for paying their own social security. This issue has now been settled by the U.S. Supreme Court. Basically, the law is as follows: If the processing plant owns the boat, the captain and crew members are employees of the plant owners. If the captain owns the boat, he is self-employed but all the crew members are his employees and he is responsible for paying social security on their earnings.

This reporting problem is caused by many of the captains who are not reporting the earnings they pay the crew. As a result, the fishermen are not getting social security credit which they so badly need. The amount of social security, as well as whether or not a person is even eligible for social security, depends upon the amount of earnings which are reported for him.

Fishermen, you may not get yours when you retire, become disabled or your family may not receive benefits when you die unless your earnings are reported for social security purposes. If your earnings are not being reported, talk to the boat owner and get him to report your earnings. All he needs to do is to take out 5.85 percent of the amount he pays you up to $14,100, match that 5.85 percent which he is required to pay, send in the withholding along with a quarterly report to Internal Revenue and you will get credit for your earnings. If your employer will not do this, let the social security office know. We will help you get your earnings reported and credited to your record so that you will get yours at retirement age.

County Agent Notes

WINTER GRAZING

You must have nitrogen to get the best growth from your winter grazing crops. If you cannot get over the fields with machinery, then consider flying the nitrogen on.

With the present high prices for feed, it is considerably cheaper to grow protein than it is to buy it. Nitrating ryegrass and fescue pastures grows protein. At the same time, the nitrogen will increase the total yields from the pastures. Use either ammonium nitrate or urea, whichever you can get the easiest.

HOME GARDENING

February is the time to really get busy with planting the home garden.

Some vegetables and varieties for February planting include: beets - Detroit Dark Red, Burpee Red Ball and Ruby Queen; carrots - Red Core Chantenay, Imperator, Spartan Bonus and Danvers 128; Swiss chard - Forkhook, Lucullus and Rhubarb; leaf lettuce - Salad Bowl, Slobolt and Buttercrunch; head lettuce - Great Lakes 118 and Imperial 847.

Mustard - Florida Broadleaf and Southern Giant Curled; onions - Crystal Wax; parsley - Moss Curled; English peas - Thomas Laxton and Little Marvel; Irish potatoes - Red Lasoda; Superior and LaChippier; radish - Cherry Nettle, Scarlet Globe and White Icicle.

DON'T LOSE DOLLARS

Wild onions or garlic bulbs in your wheat or other small grain will result in your being docked as much as 18 to 20 cents a bushel. You can prevent contamination with a good weed control program.

Use 2,4-D at the rate of one pound per acre after the wheat has tillered and before the stems begin to joint. For best control use a low volatile ester form of 2,4-D any time the temperatures are above 60 to 65 degrees.

A second application may be needed 25 to 30 days later to help insure a good kill.

CARE OF YOUNG TREES

Wrap the trunks of newly transplanted trees with burlap, heavy paper or treated crepe paper to prevent sunscald and damage from wood boring insects and rodents.

Wind the wrapping spirally from about an inch above the ground to about one foot below the top. Tie the wrapping with a cord and keep the young tree wrapped for a couple of years, or until the top has grown enough to shade the trunk.

Researchers study shrimp, crabs

Five members of the research staff of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory of Ocean Springs returned from Seattle, Wash., this week after participating in the Sixth annual meeting of the World Mariculture Society, Jan. 27-31. Two research papers were presented during the sessions by staff members.

The papers from GCRL were entitled "Lethal Dissolved Oxygen Levels for Brown Shrimp as a Function of Size, Sex, Salinity and Rate of Decline in the Medium Oxygen Content," by Gary Kramer and Dr. A. Venkataramiah, and "Prevention of Microsporidiosis in the Blue Crab," by Dr. Robin M. Oyerstreet and Edward C. Whalley Jr.

Kramer, who is a graduate student employed part-time in the Physiology Section of the Laboratory, presented the paper on brown shrimp and Whalley, a bio-technician in the Parasitology Section of the Laboratory gave the paper on the crab disease. Doctor Venkataramiah is head of the Physiology Section and Doctor Oyerstreet heads the Parasitology Section.

Besides Kramer and Whalley, staff members attending the meeting were Doctor Venkataramiah and Dr. G. Lakshmi of the Physiology Section; and Claudia Kramer who works in the GCRL Botany Section.

Results of the brown shrimp studies should be helpful to mariculturists and others such as bait shrimpers in maintaining shrimp alive in tanks and ponds, where considerable mortality is often experienced. Concentrations of dissolved oxygen, it was found, should not fall below 2.0 parts per million because shrimp begin to die below this level, Kramer said.

Massive doses of various drugs were tested on blue crabs to find means of preventing and deactivating a disease caused by the protozoan. A single drug, Buquinolate, proved an effective preventive. Dilutions of commercial bleach and an iodine complex disinfectant proved effective in deactivating spores of the disease.

Aging council holds first meeting

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has appointed Mrs. Opal Ingram of Bay St. Louis to the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District Aging Division Advisory Council, whose first meeting was held at the Westside Community Center in Gulfport Wednesday, Feb. 5.

The SMPDD Aging Division Advisory Council will help assess the problems and needs of the elderly in the fifteen counties served by SMPDD, as well as establish objectives and priorities in meeting these needs.

Once needs have been identified and prioritized, the Advisory Council will assist the SMPDD Aging Division in the planning and development of future programs to meet established objectives.

Officers to serve for a term of one year were elected and are: Mr. J. C. Albritton, Sr., Chairperson; Mrs. Hoyle Carruth, Secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Green, Vice-Secretary.

"Since the majority of the members of the Advisory Council are Senior Citizens, we feel that their assistance will prove to be invaluable," said Jane Kennedy, Director of the SMPDD Aging Division.

Mrs. Kennedy continued, saying, "These people know the needs of our elderly and have the wisdom and experience to guide us in providing services to the elderly more effectively."

Mrs. Kennedy informed the body that the SMPDD Aging Division is now providing a toll-free telephone line designed to provide information and referral services to the elderly anywhere in the fifteen county district. The number, which may be called without charge, is 1-800-222-9504.

HELP. We are fast depleting our backlog of Reflections pictures. In order to continue what we consider to be this interesting part of our area's past, we are once again making an appeal to our readers to submit pictures for publication in the Echo. Pictures must be in reasonably good condition, black and white photographs only, and dated prior to 1950.

All photographs will be returned in the same condition to the donor after publication and may be picked up that same week of publication. If there's an old photograph in your family album or attic, why not share it with our readers. It's one way to bring back the "good ole days."

Trinity Christian to relocate headquarters in New Orleans

Trinity Christian Training Institute, with headquarters at 119 Citizen Street in Bay St. Louis, is relocating its administrative facilities in New Orleans where attention is to be devoted to the development of its lay theological training program. The Institute expects the move to be completed by the middle of February.

Properties owned by the Institute on Citizen and Hancock Streets have been put up for sale. However, lay training classes on the Gulf Coast are scheduled to continue. At present the facilities of the First United Methodist Church of Pass Christian are being used weekly for two such classes.

The Institute has conducted evening classes and a resident nurture program on the Gulf Coast since 1972. Courses have also been offered in New Orleans since 1973. New Orleans is also the home of the parent organization, Trinity Christian Community.

The Rev. William J. Brown of New Orleans serves as the group's executive director and the Rev. Charles L. Holman as dean. Dean Holman has directed the instructional program since coming to the institute from a theological college in Jamaica where he taught for five years. Several Gulf Coast clergymen have also contributed through chapel addresses on evenings of classes.

County Fair Board elects officers

Other elected directors are Walter Turcotte and C. A. Russ, District I, Paul Milam and Louis J. Breaux, District II, and Pete Moran and Donald Famularo, District III.

The association is currently scheduling events for the county fair. Hancock County groups wishing to use the fairgrounds and facilities should contact Bill Goodwin. The fee is $50 for one night and $90 for two.

The committee appointments for 1975 are: scheduling of events for fairgrounds - Bill Goodwin; horse show - David Lee; rodeo - Paul Milam and Walter Gex; grounds - C. A. Russ and James Ladner; exhibit hall - Norine Barnes and Bill Goodwin; carnival - Pat Murphy and John Smith; livestock - Louis Breaux, Donald Famularo, James

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

NEW INVENTION THE PERIMETER

Nationwide Scientific, the nation's leader in line-carrier (ac transmission) alarm equipment was recently awarded a U.L. listing for the new PERIMETER alarm system. This unique system provides perimeter protection that scans off intruders before they get foot inside. The PERIMETER will provide professional security for the first time at an extremely low price by eliminating internal wiring and large labor bills. This new concept is achieved by transmitting the violation signal over the buildings existing ac wiring through new plug-in transmitter-receiver modules. Result - an extremely effective very low cost alarm system for home or business that accepts all fire and burglar alarm detection devices available.

Salvaging records

Courthouse employees and attorneys worked feverishly to save valuable records Friday after a major fire threatened the entire building and contents. Only records contained on the third floor of the 72-year-old Harrison Courthouse suffered damage or were lost. Dockets and other records were being temporarily stored in the Biloxi-Mosquito Control Commission warehouse on Hewes Ave. in Gulfport and in the old Daily Herald building on 14th Street and 23rd Avenue.

Temporary offices established . . .

The supervisors agreed to pay less than $2,500 per month for 5,041 square feet of space on the first, second, and third floors of the nine-story building. In addition the county will receive rent-free use of 900 square feet in the lobby of the building.

The moves were necessitated by extensive damages to the courthouse building in Friday's fire. The third floor was heavily damaged by the fire believed due to electrical failure. Most of the third floor roof caved in over the circuit courtroom and the court reporter's office. The first and second floors sustained extensive water damage.

City Fire Marshal Harold Woodcock told supervisors that the courthouse is a serious hazard and "would not stand any amount of wind." The chancery clerk's offices are temporarily located on the second floor of the Security-Markham building. However, Chancery Clerk Nicky Creel said Saturday that his office is not ready for processing documents or providing information from existing files.

The tax assessor's office has a desk in the lobby for filing homestead exemption certificates and two offices on the third floor, rooms 315 and 316. The tax collector's office is set up on the west side of the lobby where clerks will be located in teller cages formerly used by Security Savings.

The district attorney's office is in room 112 on the mezzanine. Officials are also studying the chances of establishing courtroom facilities in Biloxi's City Hall council room.

The records of the chancery clerk, the tax assessor, the tax collector, and the district attorney were not damaged in the fire. Workers from the courthouse and bystanders helped remove many of the records while firemen fought the blaze.

Presently the records are being held at the Coast Mosquito Control Commission warehouse and in the old Daily Herald building at the corner of 14th Street and 23rd Avenue.

The fire was first reported to the Gulfport Fire Department shortly after noon on Friday. One courthouse employee recalled that the electric clocks in the building stopped at 12:35 p.m.

Firemen and power company workers answering the call inspected the basement and left the courthouse at 1:34 p.m. when everything appeared to be under control. At 2:01 p.m., the courthouse reported a fire in the attic, and the Gulfport responded with seven trucks, a snorkel truck, one rescue unit, and sixty firemen.

Ten minutes later, the Gulfport Fire Department asked for assistance from surrounding areas. The Pass Christian Fire Department responded with two trucks, one rescue unit, and ten firemen. The Long Beach Fire Department sent one truck, a rescue unit, and ten firemen. And Biloxi sent a ladder truck, a pump truck, and ten firemen. The Seabee Base also responded with a truck.

Mobile Medic, which had two units at the scene, transported three firemen to Gulfport Memorial Hospital. Two of the firemen suffered from smoke inhalation, and a third firefighter was injured when he fell one-story.

principals," he said, "but this woman had the job before she went to the school because she got it from you." "I've been in this game long enough and I know how to take care of myself," replied McCarty.

The board decided to take no further action on any of the appointments until a written set of guidelines for the program was obtained by McCarty for the next meeting to be held Friday, Feb. 21.

Bureau reports trade data

The Mississippi Bureau of census has released reports showing that the 2,406 retail trade establishments in the Jackson metropolitan area in 1972 had sales of over $631 million. In the same year the 1,775 such establishments in the Biloxi-Gulfport area had sales of over $358 million.

These statistics appear in the final report on retail trade for Mississippi in 1972 just issued by the Bureau of the Census, part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic

Carver named chairman

The American Red Cross membership drive for 1975 is set to begin March 1. At its most recent meeting, the Hancock County Chapter of the Red Cross named Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver as this year's membership chairman.

"We are hopeful that people throughout the county will respond favorably this year to our need for members," Carver said.

"The Red Cross was most generous last year with food and other needed supplies when Hurricane Carmen became a real threat to our area."

Statistics Administration. The report which, for the first time, presents 1972 retail trade data for metro areas, cities, counties and smaller places, also updates preliminary Statewide figures for '72 which appeared in a release issued late last year. The new report shows the 22,265 retail establishments in the State in 1972 had sales of almost $4 billion in that Economic Census year.

The report is one of three final reports on the State's business activities in 1972 just issued by the Bureau containing "local area" data. The other two cover wholesale trade and selected service industries. Preliminary reports on these two categories of business also were issued last fall.

The retail report shows automotive dealers in the Jackson area had the largest volume of sales—$149 million—with food stores in second place with over $130.4 million. Similar businesses in the Biloxi-Gulfport metro area had sales of $80.1 million and $73.9 million respectively.

The State's final wholesale trade report shows the Jackson metro area's 602 wholesale establishments had '72 sales of over $1 billion as against sales of $128.9 million for the 187 establishments in the Biloxi-Gulfport area in that year.

The report also shows sales of the 3,485 wholesale establishments throughout the State totaled almost 4 billion in 1972. This total includes $657 million in sales by "Farm-Products Raw Materials" wholesalers, the largest category, and $651 million by wholesalers of "Groceries and Related Products," in second place.

The 2,090 service establishments in the Jackson metro area included in the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries, including hotels, motels, personal and business services and repair shops, had receipts of $157.3 million, while the 1,272 such places in the Biloxi-Gulfport area had receipts of almost $64.7 million in the census year according to the final report on that census. Among the larger service categories covered in the census, legal services in the Jackson area accounted for receipts of $15.8 million. In the Biloxi-Gulfport area, these services generated receipts of over $6 million.

The final totals for the State for the services and professions included in the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries were 13,560 establishments and $539 million in receipts.

Ducomb-McPhail

Miss Nelwyn Therese Ducomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phillip Ducomb of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and Michael Worthington McPhail, son of Mrs. Wilroy Wade McPhail, Hattiesburg, Miss., and the late Mr. McPhail were married at an afternoon nuptial Mass Feb. 8 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Victor Seidel, Annunciation Church, Kiln, officiating.

The altar decorated with arrangements of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums interspersed with coral bell azaleas and white feathered doves, was flanked by banks of magnolia leaves and trailing petit point ivy.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Dennis Arnold who sang several nuptial selections.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a peau de soie empire styled gown with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The neckline of the fitted lace bodice was edged with matching lace scallops and appliques of lace trimmed the lily point sleeves. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of matching Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and stephanotis accented with pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Sharon McKenna, Bay St. Louis, attended the bride as maid of honor and Mrs. Joseph G. Fritz, Houston, Tex., was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Terry Fritz, Houston, niece of the bride, Patricia Kelly, Hattiesburg, and Angie Gonzales, Lucedale, Miss.

The maid and matron of honor wore candy pink quiana empire style gowns with burgundy velvet long sleeved boleros edged with pink quiana ruffles. The bridesmaids wore pink quiana dresses fashioned with V-necklines and burgundy velvet lapels trimmed with pink ruffles. They wore burgundy velvet lace picture hats with velvet ribbon streamers and carried bouquets of dark red roses, baby's breath and lemon leaves interspersed with loops of burgundy satin ribbon.

George Collins, Olive Branch, Miss., cousin of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Larry Addison, Hattiesburg, Wayne Ducomb Jr., Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride, Rick Lambert, Oxford, Miss., and Eddie LaFavour, Meridian, Miss. Mark Muller, Gulfport, Chuck Abadie and Buddy Davenport, both of Hattiesburg, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. The mantle in the reception room, banked with magnolia leaves and trailing ivy, was centered with an arrangement of white gladiolas and pink and white carnations with branched candelabra on either side.

The bride's table, overlaid with an imported lace cloth bordered with pink perfection camellias, held the four-tiered wedding cake trimmed with white spun sugar roses, tiny pink flowers and feathered doves. Branched candelabra holding white candles completed the table decorations.

Miss Ethel DeArmas and Miss Kathleen Renshaw served the cake and Mrs. John McKenna presided at the punch bowl. Assisting in serving were Mrs. James Sanders, sister of the groom, Julie and Jill Sanders, nieces of the groom, Mrs. John Cook and Mrs. J. C. Baxter Jr.

Mrs. B. F. Farrelly and Mrs. H. S. Renshaw kept the guest register.

The mother of the bride received guests wearing a French blue floor length crepe dress with a lace jacket.

The mother of the groom wore a dress of moss green sheer with printed paisley border. Both mothers wore off-white orchid corsages.

For traveling the bride chose a sea green knit suit with a jade blouse, bone accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will reside in Hattiesburg.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collins, Olive Branch, Miss.; Miss Caroline Worthington, Greenville, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fredericks Sr., William Willoughby, Crestview, Fla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mundy, New Orleans.

Scouts celebrate 65th anniversary

More than 30,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America in this area will celebrate the 65th anniversary of the national youth movement in February with a series of local and area activities, according to James Johnson, Scout Executive of the New Orleans Area Council.

Cub Scouts and Scouts are now in the second year of the BSA bicentennial program, and the special activities will tie in with the current program emphasis, Be Prepared for Life: Be Safe, Be Fit.

"We expect that nearly every one of our 331 Cub Scout packs will be holding the traditional blue and gold dinners or similar activities," Johnson said, "and most of the 345 Scout troops will have parents' nights and courts of honor for the presentation of awards."

Cub Scout packs will also hold other activities during February such as action or window displays, special school activities, Uniform Day, and other special Cub Scout events.

Scout troops, too, will add other special activities during the anniversary month including a troop open house, participation in religious services, hikes and camps, and programs for local organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shelton have returned to their home in Kona Villa following a winter holiday in Europe and the Middle East which took them to Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Egypt, and a cruise on the Mediterranean and Aegean Seas as well as visits to Greece and Italy. They especially enjoyed Venice, Florence, and Rome. While in Florence they joined the Sunday promenade on the Pont du Vecchio (bridge) and were interested to see children, dressed in Mardi Gras costumes, with their parents on the narrow streets greeting each other with confetti and serpentine. With none of the gaiety or frivolity of our season, Tom and Pat now have as their Mardi Gras guest their daughter, Mrs. Dave Barton, from Illinois. That cute Kathleen Criss hosted a skating party on her Big No. 9 recently. Many more happy birthdays to you! With the paint hardly dry and the furniture barely placed in their new home here, John and Charlotte are also hosting a birthday party. . . Jim Smith and Jim May are a year older. Helping in the festivities were Missy Smith, Mary May, Cheryl Huffman, Rod Larsen, Gerald Price, Jr. and Gerald Price III.

We are sorry to report that John Lewko is still ailing and now Lee's father is quite ill. We're thinking of you, Lee. Nice to hear that Mary Hoppert is now on the mend from recent surgery. George and Joyce Kollasch (that beautiful house called "The Captain's Place") were neighbors in bringing over some of their home grown vegetable. . . all one has to do is listen while they brag about their newest grandchild. Tom and Sue Berry and their four small fry are so excited over taking possession of their new home on Diamondhead Drive East. Tom and Sue formerly lived in the Village.

George and Billie enjoying a lovely dinner party at the Club while entertaining friends in from Canada. We certainly have no reason not to attend the services held here at the Villa Motel. At 8:30 a.m. on Sundays there is the Protestant Service; at 9:30 a.m. the Christian Science Informal Study Services and back again sometime in March the Catholic Church will resume Mass there. Have you been down to the "Convenience Store" by the Yacht Club? It's operated by Kathy Backe, a new resident here, and one may find many staples plus necessary goodies there. Try it - you'll like it. Quite a unique banquet scheduled for Feb. 22, and I hear that the golfers are really buzzing over it. To qualify all one has to do is to challenge another person to a golf match - the loser eats beans, the winner eats steak. Bon appetite!

Bay St. Louis

So what are you doing about it? Eating less beans . . . and the price is still high. Some electricity bills have doubled, yet you're conserving. It's all due to one major factor—the fuel shortage. The whole economy has been affected, yet it's easier to understand the high cost of groceries than it is the high cost of electricity.

Electric bills are higher because fuel is higher. The income from these increased prices does not go to your Electric Power Association, but to the fuel suppliers. The cost of practically everything used in bringing electric power to you, from wire to poles, has increased. Your EPA has been able to absorb most of these rising costs, but the cost of fuel is about half of your monthly electric bill and there's just no way to absorb it and continue to furnish you electricity.

Your Electric Power Association is as concerned about the high cost of power as you are. There is no immediate answer in sight.

THIS CAN OF BEANS HAS TRIPLED IN PRICE.

How to get more meat for your meat dollar

Price per portion, not price per pound

No matter what cuts of meat you buy, here's an important rule to follow. It's the price per serving that counts, not the price per pound. If boneless round is $1.49 per pound it's a better buy than short ribs at 98¢ per pound. Because you can get 4 servings out of the boneless round at about 38¢ apiece. Whereas you might only get two servings out of the short ribs at about 49¢ apiece.

Of course the size of a serving really depends on your family's individual needs. But three ounces of cooked lean meat is the most common definition of a serving. And two is a satisfactory amount for small children, or older people with small appetites.

In planning your shopping list, the following guides to portions per pound can help.

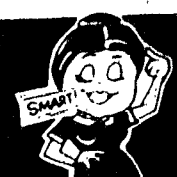

Purchase	Yield:
1 lb. boneless low-fat meat, such as lean meat cubes or roast	3-4 portions
1 lb. boneless fatty meat	2-4 portions
1 lb. small bone meat, such as blade roast or chops	2 portions
1/2 to one pound bone meat, such as spareribs	1 portion

Tips from the A&P Butcher.

Meat you buy at special prices is an investment that pays off when you use some and store the rest in your home freezer for future use. To make the most of this opportunity to save, here are some freezer tips.

1. Wrap meats in single meal, or single portion quantities.
2. Put two sheets of paper between pairs of shaped patties or steaks, so that they can easily be separated while still frozen.
3. Wrap the meat tightly in moisture and vapor-proof paper. Lay the meat in the center of the wrap, bring the long edges together, fold over and over, butcher's style flat against the meat, fold ends of the wrap over and over to make a tight seal. Tie firmly or seal with freezer tape.
4. Label each package with contents and date of storage. Be sure to use the meat before the recommended storage time is up.
5. Freezer storage times are 6-8 months for beef and poultry, 6-7 months for lamb, 3-4 months for pork and veal, 1-3 months for ground meat and cooked meat and 1 month for sausage.

Pirates crush Bay High in fourth quarter, 78-57

The Pass Pirates blew a 16-point lead in the second half of its Friday night game against Bay High, then behind the inspired play of substitute Vic Swanier, the Pirates pulled away for a 78-57 win. In the girls' game, the Tigerettes outscored the Pirates 30-13 in the second half to win easily, 53-34.

Pass High's Robin Malley led all scorers with 22 points, but it was the fourth quarter heroics of Pirate sub Vic Swanier who stopped Bay High's comeback efforts.

Playing the kind of ball that helped them win the Pascagoula River Conference championship, the Pirates applied a full-court press in the first quarter and jumped out to a 14-2 lead before the game was five minutes old.

Robin Malley, who blocked numerous Bay High shots and passes, brought the crowd to its feet early in the game when he blocked a shot from the corner. The ball appeared to be headed out of bounds, but Malley caught the ball, turned in mid-air, and fired downcourt to Henry Malley who was all alone.

"We just had 'em psyched out in the first quarter," said Pirate Coach Dale Moran after the game. "I really don't think our press hurt them that much." But Coach Mike Necaise of Bay High saw it differently. "They really hurt us with the press in the first quarter. It wasn't that we were afraid of them. We'd play them again tomorrow."

Late in the second quarter, Pass High built a 40-24 lead, but then the Pirates began to commit mental errors such as passing without looking, and the Tigers seized the initiative. The momentum carried over into the second half as the Tigers whittled the lead down to 48-46. Coach Moran called a time out. Enter Vic Swanier.

In a little over eight minutes playing time, Swanier scored ten points and stole several Tiger passes. The Pirates pulled away again, scoring 12 unanswered points midway through the final stanza.

Bay High's season record now stands at 12-11, and the Pirates are 18-7.

In the girls' game, Connie Winstead's 17 points was not enough to stop the Bay High Tigerettes from running up a 53-34 win. Three players, including Sandra Lyons who scored 14, hit in the double figures for Bay High.

The game was close in the first half with Bay High moving in front 23-21 at the half when Sandra Lyons hit on a layup at the buzzer.

however, the Tigerettes raced out to a 36-24 lead with some fine defensive plays by Monica Price and Perry Ann Whavers. The Pirates never recovered.

The Tigerettes now own a 15-8 record, and the Pirates record fell to 18-10. Pass High (78)

Tigerettes make it two in a row

The Bay Junior High Tigerettes won their second straight tournament by edging out the Long Beach Bearkittens in double overtime Friday night 25-24 to win the Bay Junior High Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Cleo Hawkins led the Tigerettes with 10 points, and Andrea Favre added another nine points. The Tigerettes are now 14-7 on the year.

The Tigerettes reached the finals by knocking off Pass Christian, 25-13, and Hancock North Central, 31-19.

In the boys' bracket, Harrison Central downed the Long Beach Bearcats 39-33. The Bay Junior High boys defeated Hancock North Central in the first round, 57-55, were eliminated by Long Beach 53-50 in semi-final action.

Richards renamed Babe Ruth head

Robert L. Richards of Long Beach has been reappointed Mississippi State Commissioner for the 16-18 division of the International Babe Ruth Baseball program.

Richards, who has been affiliated as a volunteer with Babe Ruth Baseball since 1973, is self-employed with the Coast Office Machine Company in Long Beach.

In announcing the retention of Richards in the post, Babe Ruth Baseball Development Director Ronald Tellefsen praised his work and dedication over the past years of association with the world's largest regulation teenage baseball program, which is now in its 25th season.

Rebel guard rewrites Ole Miss assists records

While no established publishing concern has contracted him as of yet, Ole Miss guard Bob Mahoney's talents as an author are coming to the fore.

Not that the Rebel senior has decided to forego the final eight games of his collegiate career and swap basketball for a pen and typewriter. Just the opposite.

The Cincinnati, Ohio native is actually in the process of writing and rewriting the Johnny Reb record book night after night under the chapter of individual assists.

For example, in the Rebs

93-87, win over Georgia last week, the 6-4 Mahoney was credited with 11 of his team's 24 assists, a feat that duplicates his record-setting Jan. 6 performance at Auburn.

But such honors are hardly new to the Rebel backcourt performer, who is also scoring at 11.2 points a game.

With 96 assists on the current campaign, he ranks fourth in the Southeastern Conference with an average of 5.3 per contest. And after a team-leading, record-cracking 127 assists as a sophomore and 88 last winter, he has raised his school career record to an astronomical 311. With six games still on tap, Mahoney may erase the seasonal mark he established in 1973.

Scoring, nonetheless, has not always been a Mahoney trademark. As a frequent sophomore starter, he averaged 5.2 points. And as a part-time regular in '74, he fell to 3.2. However, this year he has reached double figures in 10 of the Reb's 18 games, with high outings of 21 against both Texas and Tulane.

After Mahoney's 14 point effort against LSU and the 16-point against Georgia, Headcoach Robert Jarvis is hopeful the veteran playmaker has indeed regained his shooting eye for the closing segment of the season that features consecutive engagements with league leaders Alabama and Kentucky.

"For about a week or so my scoring just did a nose dive," said Mahoney. "I think that was primarily because I wasn't following through properly on my shooting. I did feel better shooting against LSU and Georgia. Hopefully I'm doing the right things again."

Pirates offered full scholarships

Two athletes who helped the Pass High Pirates to an undefeated regular season and the Pascagoula River Conference championship, Greg Dommert and Robert Isabelle, have been offered full two-year athletic scholarships to Perkinson Junior College.

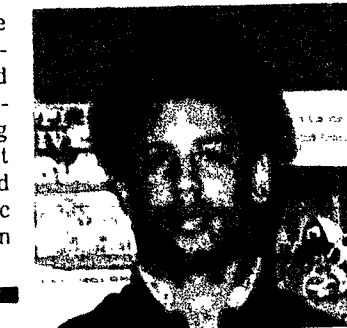

GREG DOMMERT

Greg Dommert, 6-3 and 205 pounds, lettered three years at Pass High. In his senior year, he played both offensive and defensive tackle for the Pirates.

Robert Isabelle, 6-3 and 195 pounds, also lettered three years for the Pirates. This past season he was used primarily as the offensive center. He also played linebacker on defense in several games.

Bay High district hopes are in Poplarville

The Bay High Tigers (12-11) face a team from Brooklyn High School tonight on the Pearl River Junior College campus in the final game of the first round of the District 8-A playoffs.

namment. "I hope our people travel with us to the Poplarville campus because we've got a real good chance at district."

In the only other Thursday night game on tap, the Tigerettes, fresh from a 53-34 win over the Pascagoula River Conference champion Pass Pirates, will play Purvis.

The girls' season record now stands at 16-8.

Two other local schools, Pass Christian and Hancock North Central, played Wednesday night in the single-elimination tournament.

The tournament finals are slated for Saturday night with the winners moving on to the South State playoffs.

MARDI GRAS REGATTA - Bay Waveland Yacht Club's powerful team won the John G. Curren Memorial Trophy at the 13th Annual Mardi Gras Regatta. Hosted by New Orleans Yacht Club, the three race series was sailed on Lake Pontchartrain Feb. 8-9. Bubby Eagan, with Ellen and Marc Eagan as crew, sailed to a fourth place finish for BWYC.

Sunday's weather offered a rather drastic change to a gusting 20 knot breeze. This suited Bay-Waveland's third skipper Chuck Breath just fine as he and his Crew of Kay and Mary Kergosien won the final race of the Series, securing the lead for BWYC.

Other results of Bay Waveland members who participated in the Mardi Gras Regatta were as follows: OPEN FLYING SCOTS - Harry Chapman, first, with Mimi Jeagan and Joe Goddard

Mrs. Wagner to compete at Pinehurst Tourney

Mrs. Virginia Wagner of Bay St. Louis won the right to compete in the Women's Singles event at the Laver-Emerson Cup National Tennis Tournament to be held in Pinehurst, North Carolina, June 3-5.

Mrs. Wagner attended the Laver-Emerson Tennis Holiday adult clinics at April Sound, north of Houston, the week of October 17, 1974. And while there, she vied with other clinic guests to emerge victorious and become eligible for the finals in Pinehurst.

The Pinehurst tournament will be the climax of weekly qualifying matches held throughout 1974 at Laver-Emerson Tennis Holidays.

resorts. A total of 196 adult amateur tennis players from across the U.S. and several from foreign countries make up the list of finalists.

Laver-Emerson Tennis has just completed its first year of nationally promoted adult tennis clinic vacation programs. The tennis holidays attracted over 2,500 participants in 1974, and according to Executive Vice-President Mike Narracott, double that number are expected in 1975.

The tennis holidays feature intense tennis instruction under the direction of a resident world-class Aussie tournament player and an Australian-flavored off-court entertainment. Rod Laver and Roy Emerson will host a majority of the clinics.

"We've seen some fine competition at our weekly tennis clinics," Rod Laver said recently. "The Cup Nationals give the average player a chance to experience tournament play, and an all-expenses-paid trip to Australia via Qantas Airways is one of the best prizes offered for this type of competition."

The winners in each of the three events will receive an all-expenses-paid round trip, two-week Qantas Australian Tennis Holiday for two.

PRC ladies win, 62-46

The Pearl River (Lady) Wildcats broke open a close game in the second half, and behind Jo Ann Dawsey's play, whipped the Meridian Junior College Eagles, 62-46 at the PRC coliseum in Poplarville.

Dawsey led all scorers with 28 points and, along with Kathy Eaves and Jan Rutherford, controlled both the offensive and defensive board play. The Wildcats, who never trailed in the game, led 26-22 at the half and went on to win their third contest of the year.

PRC broke the game open in the opening minutes of the second half by outscoring Meridian 19-4.

Meridian's top scorer was Debby Rutledge who netted 24 points.

The victory avenged an earlier loss the PRC squad was dealt at Meridian 54-52. The PRC ladies will host the Girls' South Division Tournament Feb. 20-22.

Raiderettes win finale

The Coast Episcopal Junior high girls' basketball team ended the season on a winning note by crushing St. Clare 28-4. The junior Raiderettes jumped out to a 20-2 halftime lead and coasted to the win. Shelley McNair led all scorers with 10 points.

Coast Episcopal's season record is now 2-3.

Wildcats lose twice, look to playoffs

The Pearl River Junior College Wildcats suffered two setbacks last week, but still managed to hold on to their second place ranking in the Southern Conference.

Inaccurate shooting and an overall poor team performance plagued the Wildcats as they lost their last home game of the season to Meridian, 78-67. Johnny Woodland, a Hattiesburg freshman, led all scorers with 31 points.

Earlier in the week, the redhot Hinds Eagles came from behind to edge PRC, 83-80, in conference action.

Nathan Middleton of Picayune scored 23 points with Woodland adding 20 in that contest.

Utica, which has clinched the regular season championship, will take the top-seeded role into the Feb. 17-18 South Division playoffs. But the Bulldogs had to survive a scary 88-88 overtime victory over Hinds Saturday night to clinch the title.

NEW INVENTION THE PERIMITECTOR

Nationwide Scientific, the nation's leader in line carrier (ac transmission) alarm equipment, has recently awarded a U.S. Patent for the new PERIMITECTOR alarm system. The unique PERIMITECTOR will provide professional security for the first time at an extremely low price by eliminating internal wiring and large labor bills. This new concept is achieved by transmitting the violation signal over the building's existing in-cabling through new patent transmitter-receiver modules. Result - an extremely effective very low cost alarm system for home or business that accepts all line and burglar alarm detection devices available.

KANTCHA KETCHUM
By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

There was perfect weather over the weekend after two cold fronts came in. It was good for fishing, golf and other sports. About time that things got right. Winter was not too severe but lasted a long time. Will be glad to see the good old summertime.

In summer it is a pleasure to go fishing, crabbing, floundering, even skiing. A pain to the average fisherman but good for those who like it. We all have our likes and dislikes, but we can respect other sportsmen.

Paid a visit to McKay's Cafe on the DeLisle and Kiln Road. They have food, etc., for fishermen and are open on Sundays. This is good news for fishermen in this area. The McKays are nice people to know.

Met John Windham, a wine and whiskey representative who fishes and plays golf. He is from Biloxi, Miss. Has played with us old timers for some time.

Most of you folks know Reginald N. Blaize, Jr. He now lives in Houston. He hunts and fishes with friends in Louisiana. A former Bay St. Louis native.

Dan Barber is a member of the Echo Staff. He has three hobbies, playing tennis, water sports and sailing. Kinder hard to get them all in, he said.

Dave's Auto Service is on Washington Road. Dave, the owner, loves to fish when not serving his customers. A good guy to know.

What has become of the quail? This is the question most quail hunters are asking especially Harry (Wop) Glover who is an expert on quail hunting and bird dog raising.

The quail must be going to some nearby reserve. Wop has been out several times with not much success.

Another reason may be there are not many fields furnishing food for the birds nor cover for their protection.

Fox and common cats could be catching the young birds, or maybe they are all in our cities which prohibits hunting.

If you have the answer let us know. This year's season is about over. Maybe hunting quail next year will be better.

Dogs must be fed the year round. That's getting expensive too, said Wop. Maybe our children will have to go to a museum to see a quail in the future?

John Scaffide, Sr. said he has been getting a few bass but they are small. Warmer weather will furnish better fishing, we think, John. Hunters will go back to fishing now that the hunting seasons are practically over.

A little good news. Hard crabs are beginning to give, according to Brother Perri and Horace Farr. They caught some large ones the past week.

There is no better eating than boiled crabs and gumbo, to my way of thinking. They can be caught off the seawall down Cedar Point way and towards Bayou Caddy almost any old time. Catching them can be fun for the whole family.

Tuesday wound up the Carnival season hereabout with the parade which started in Waveland having its route on Highway 90 ending at Dunbar Avenue. It was a new venture and should prove a continued one.

Speaking again of the summertime, did you know that it will soon be time to go frogging. It's easy to go, easy to catch them, and easy to enjoy some good eating. Frog legs are delicious. Try them.

I am proud to be a member of the committee of Sea Explorer Ship 770, thanks to Hank D. Irwin of New Orleans. Hank is captain of ship 770 and is doing a good job. Expects to bring the ship and the boys to Bay St. Louis this summer. Hank sends regards to friends here.

Green trout and perch will start spawning soon. It will then be time to start fishing for them with worms, crickets, minnows, grubs, etc. A minnow-trap doesn't cost too much. Minnows now cost .04 cents each. Catch your own.

Soft crabs will start next month. Hope things will be better than last year. Crabs, like pecans, are more plentiful every other year, according to our experience.

Buddy Engelhorn, a Baton Rouge police detective, and his family spent the weekend with his father, Eddie Engelhorn. Everyone went fishing but didn't catch a thing. Better luck next time, Buddy.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—A healthy looking sportsman is Gary Cousins who is especially fond of fishing. He's not the best around; but they don't come any better when it comes to catching speckled trout and red fish. If you don't believe it, just ask him.

Hancock North Central names Star student

Hancock North Central has named Don H. Landry a STAR student. Ronald T. Burks, Industrial Drafting instructor at Hancock North Central School, was named as STAR teacher.

Mr. Landry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Landry of Kiln and plans to enter Mississippi State University and major in Chemical Engineering.

Mr. Burks is a resident of Carriere; he has taught at HNC for five years and is also a free lance commercial artist, graphic designer, and draftsman. He attended Pearl River Junior College, received his B. S. from the University of Southern Mississippi and is presently working toward his master's degree.

The eraser

Connie Winstead of Pass Christian has erased many Pirate basketball records, and several other records that show other names will also be erased before Connie ends her high school basketball career this month.

IN THE SERVICE

The training included instruction in seamanship, military regulations, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Navy history.

JAMES C. STANBRO
James C. Stanbro, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Stanbro of 137 Holiday Drive, Pass Christian, Miss., is undergoing training at the Coast Guard Training Center, Alameda, Calif.

He will receive ten weeks of instruction in Coast Guard history and tradition, seamanship, firefighting, first aid, physical education and small weapons marksmanship.

A former student of St. John High School, Gulfport, Miss., he joined the Coast Guard in January 1975.

Ole Miss confers degrees

Two area students have received Bachelor of Arts degrees from the University of Mississippi. They are from Bay St. Louis, Terry A. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Phillips, who received a Bachelor of Business Administration, and from Pass Christian, Karen Elaine Demetz, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Donald J. Demetz, who received a Bachelor of Arts.

Pass cager breaks records in triplicate

by David Pierson

Pass High Basketball Coach Dale Moran said jokingly last Thursday that "perhaps the Pirates' gymnasium should be renamed Winstead Gym." After all, his six foot center, Connie Winstead, holds nearly every girls' basketball record at Pass High in triplicate—most points scored (for a game, a season, a career), most rebounds (for a game, a season, a career), highest scoring average (same as the above), and highest field goal percentage.

"In my opinion," said Coach Moran, "she will be remembered by Pirate fans as one of the best, if not the best, player to have played the game at Pass High."

Connie, the daughter of Gerald and Carol Winstead of Pass Christian, directs the conference champion Pass Pirates' basketball machine. According to her coach, she's been quite a director. "She's been carrying the team the whole year. She is aggressive, but at the same time she is unselfish and places team play above individual play."

Although she plays center, Connie has now been assigned the duty of helping the ball down court. So, in effect, she plays a position somewhere between guard and pivot.

And yet team-player Connie Winstead can transform into individual-star Connie Winstead if the situation warrants it. For example, in the Pirates semi-final game against tournament favorite St. Martin, the score was tied 26-26 with :14 left in the game. Connie dashes forward, steals the ball, drives the length of the floor, shoots over a defender, misses the shot, but reaches up for a five foot tap-in. The Pirates win 28-26 and go on to claim the second straight conference championship (and Connie her second straight conference MVP award).

Connie has been playing under Coach Moran since the seventh grade, and during that time she has won quite a few awards—two all-conference team selections, two-time winner of the school's MVP award, plus several all-tournament selections.

Then she went to high school. Against the stiffer competition, she received even more recognition. Each year she has been selected to the All-District 8-A team. In addition, she has also been named to the Pascagoula River Conference all-tournament team the last three years (winning the tournament MVP award the last two years), and has been selected to the all-star team in seven tournaments. She has also received nearly every school athletic honor available—the most athletic girl at Pass High (1972-73), most valuable player (1973-74), and best offensive player (1972-73).

As a freshman she made the starting team on the varsity squad, a rarity considering the last player to achieve that mark did so about ten years ago. In Connie's sophomore and junior years, when girls' basketball consisted of offensive and defensive teams, Coach Moran positioned her at rover so that she could play on both sides of the court.

Several of Connie's records have good chances of standing for a long time, the most notable of those is her career scoring achievements. She has already surpassed 1,000 career points, a figure that doubles the previous career high.

She also coaches in the city's PeeWee basketball program and, during the summer, coaches a softball team for 9 to 13 year-old girls. In fact, Connie Winstead apparently does everything but drive the school bus home, but she's trying to change that. Connie is the first girl substitute bus driver in the school district. Now, not only is Connie capable of carrying the team, she is also capable of driving them home after the game.

Rupp Jr., Bachelor of Science in Business Administration; Kiln, Elizabeth Ann Favre, Bachelor of Science; and Pearlinton, Susan Marie Ladner, Bachelor of Science.
